

EQUINE CLINICIAN – STUD VET, NORTH YORKSHIRE

An exciting opportunity has arisen for an experienced, enthusiastic and customer focussed equine stud clinician, to join at our Practice at Galphay, near Ripon.

The applicant should be confident working with stud managers, carrying out stud work with high value Thoroughbreds, and have knowledge of the Thoroughbred breeding industry. You'll be expected to demonstrate expert care of in-foal mares, foals and youngstock. Experience with both frozen and chilled AI programmes is desirable but not essential.

An RCVS certificate in stud medicine would be preferred. A generous package is available including competitive salary, CPD allowance, pension scheme, generous holiday allowance, VDS cover and membership of RCVS and BEVA. Progression through the business is available for the right candidate

Anticipating our vet being available for the 2018 stud season – we'll be considering competitive applications as they arrive.
