

Join the Parklands Veterinary Group Poultry team!

Dungannon, County Tyrone, N. Ireland

We're looking for a Veterinary Surgeon to join our specialist poultry team. If you have an interest in poultry or even if you have no prior poultry experience, that's not a problem as full training and support are provided, including internship options for new grads.

What's on offer?

- Competitive salary
- Full-time, permanent role
- Mentorship, CPD, career development and one to one training
- Generous benefits package including health cover, paid leave and more

If you're a vet looking for a fresh challenge or a new graduate ready to explore poultry medicine, we'd love to hear from you!
